

SCALFARO GTO 1962 BIZZARRINI WATCH EDITION

Scalfaro and Giotto Bizzarrini launch a Limited Edition of Mechanical Wristwatches commemorating the Introduction of the iconic 250 GTO Sports Car in 1962

SCALFARO GTO 1962 BIZZARRINI WATCH EDITION

Inspired by the world's most legendary sports car: the iconic Ferrari 250 GTO which celebrates its 50th anniversary in 2012, watch manufacture SCALFARO created the limited GTO 1962 BIZZARRINI EDITION of mechanical Swiss timepieces featuring original material from one of the most prominent GTO cars – the ex-Ecurie Francorchamps chassis no. 3757GT. The design and creation of this truly special edition was realized in close collaboration with “L'Ingegnere” Giotto Bizzarrini who was the leading engineer in the GTO's development over 50 years ago as well as Pink Floyd drummer and car collector Nick Mason who supplied genuine parts of his GTO. These parts were subsequently integrated into the watch cases of the edition, so that each of the numbered edition watches not only features numerous design elements from the GTO, but also contains the authentic DNA of this sports car icon and thus a direct link to its fascinating history. The signature of Giotto Bizzarrini adorns the face of each chronograph and underlines the exclusivity of this edition limited to 250 pieces. Further details include: 42mm case diameter, Scalfaro Ceramic DNA Intarsia, finely decorated Swiss mechanical Manufacture La Joux-Perret chronograph movement, off-shape bezel, sapphire crystal, see-through case back, choice of black natural rubber strap incl. cylinder ignition pattern of the Colombo V12 engine or Horween shell cordovan strap, elegant folding buckle, water-resistant to 100m (330ft). Each SCALFARO GTO 1962 BIZZARRINI EDITION watch is individually numbered and comes in an exclusive wooden box. Available from Euro 7.950,-.
